SCHOOL NOTES.

This number completes the first volume of the Wycombiensian. It is pleasing to note that our circulation has steadily increased: last Term the number sold amounted to 186, an inerease of 70 on our first issuc. We still produce the magazine at a loss, but we hope shortly to form an Old Boys' (Club, and thus get into touch with many former members of the fichool, who are not at present subscribers.

Mr. Threlfall, who for four years has held the post of second Master, and has done so much for the school in many ways, is to be marricd to Miss Collister carly in the summer holidays. We take this opportunity of congratulating them both very heartily, and wish them every happiness in their future life.

We offer our very hearty thanks tı Mr. D. (larke for his generous gift of a Cricket Challenge Cup for Interllouse competition. We are now well supplice with Cups for the various athletic events, and sloould be very grateful to anyone who would present us with one for cxcellence in Work. The latter would be awarded on the terminal results as published in the Class Lists at the end of each number of the Magazine.

The Ifouse Clampionship for Athetics was still undecided when the prizes were distributed at the Athetic Sports. 'This was owing to the fact that the Relay race had not been run. This race took plate on the School ground on Thursday, June loth, each llouse cntcring five competitors, who ran respectively one, two, three, two and one laps. West had only a weak team in the field, and the contest really lay between East and House. There was a very good race for the first lap between Weller and Bushell, but the former fell about thirty yards from home, and Ilouse thus obtained a substantial lead. This was increased by Jackson and Watson, and though Rutty sprinted well in the final lap, House won easily by more than half a lap. Before the Relay race East were leading by half a point, with a total of 48 points. but on the result of this race llouse were awarded 3 points and East 2, so that the former fually won the cup by half a point. The teams were as follows:-House: Bushell, Gillett, Jackson, Norris, Watson. East: Neale i, Rose, Rutty, Weller, Wood. West : Edgerley, Gardner i, llorwood, Toplis, Pearce i.

Owing to our steady increase in numbers, the Governors at their meeting in May last sanctioned the addition of another master to the staff. We shall thus be able to add an extra Form: this will enable us to reduce the numbers in the Forms in the lower part of the School. The difficulty of Classroom accommodation still remains, but we hope that the Governors will soon sce their way to commence new buildings.

We heartily congratulate R. J. Stamard (O.B.) on becoming an Aesociate of the Royal College of Organists. He was placed first on the list of candidates and was awarded the ('art prize. He also won the Mercers' Scholarship of 50 guincas at the Guildhall School of Music.
E. A. Baker (O.B.) has been awarded the College prize for University students in Science at University Colloge, Reading. We offer him our hearty congratulations on this success.
II. J. ('arr and E. C. Day passed the Oxford Local Sonior Examination, which was held last March, and were placed in the First Division. (arr passed in Arithmetic, Religious Knowledge, IIistory, Composition, English Literature, Geography, Algebra, Geometry, Drawing. Day passed in Arithmetic, Religious Knowledge, IIistory, Algebra, Genmetry, French.
E. G. Worley and E. C. Richardson have passed the second part of the Preliminary Examination for the Elemontary Schools Teachers' Certificate.

On Empire Day the IIcadmaster gave a half holiday, and most of the Masters and Boarders spent the afternoon in the Quarry Woods near Marlow. Whit-Monday was as usual a whole loliday. The Boarders celebrated the occasion by making an expedition to IIurlcy, some cycling and some by train and boat. The weather was ideal, and Ilurley Backwaters delightful, and the expedition was much enjoyed by everyone.

Speech Day is fixed for Tuesday, July 27th. The arrangements will be the same as last year. A large maryuee will be ereeted in the school grownds, and after the speeches our visitors will have an opportunity of inspecting the school buildings and taking tea in the orelatrd. Though it is impossible to send out invitations; (1) all Old Boys, we shall be very glad to see all who arc able to be present.

Cricket Colours have been awarded to R. HI. Norris, (x. J. Gillett, C. L. Rutty, and C. R. Watkins.

Our numbers this Term have been: Boarders, 10: Day Boys, 126, including 6 Pupil Teachers: total, 136.

The prefects have been: D. J. Watson, C. R. Watkins, ( $\mathrm{F} . \mathrm{T} . \mathrm{Jackson}, \mathrm{A} . \mathrm{W}$. Thomas, ('. W. K. Neale. and A. II Todd.

Next Term will commence on Thursday. September 16th. Boarders return the day before.

FOOTBALL.

The Soceer Eights provided some interesting games for the second foothall team, which is usually lacking in school matches. After the first few games, it scemed probable that the suceessful Eight would be Jackson's, Thomas's, Rutty's, or Worley's; and, indeed, Jackson won all his ten matches rather easily. Rutty defeated Thomas, but could only draw with Worley and two weaker eights. Thomas obtained twelve points from cight matches, Rutty eleven from cight matches, and Worley seven from five, while the others were only moderately successful, though no eight was absolutely pointless. Jackson's eight included, besides himself. Sweatman, Gotch i, Stephenson, Hill iii. INoward ii, Stevens, and Britnell ii, who each received a "Socecr" medal.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

The 20th Aunual Athletic Sports were held on the Town Cricket Ground on Thursday, May 27th. The number of spectators was less than usual. owing to the unsettled state of the weather, but fortunately the rain held off. excent for one short shower, until the final event of the programme. The results were as follows:

QUARTER-MILE SCRATCLI (OPEN).
1st, G. T. Jackson. 2nd, D. J. Watson. 3rd, C. G. W. Gardner. Time: 57 secs.

Ist, B. R. P. Wood (56 yards). 2nd, T. W. Harris (120 yards). 3rd, G. T. Jackson (scratch). Time• 2 min . $14 \frac{1}{4} \mathrm{secs}$.

Jackson started from scratch in this race in order to attack the record; Wood came home first fairly easily, but there was a hard struggle for sccond place; Jackson made a grand spurt in the last 150 yards, but just failed to catch Harris: he completed the whole distance in 2 mins. 18 secs., thus beating the rccord made in 1893 by J. ('ONSOLATION RACE (220 YARDS HANDICAP).
1st. D. G. Leys. 2nd, C. Lord. 3rd, A. V. Britnell.
TUG-OF WAR.

The Sports (Championship was won by D. J. Watson, with $7 \frac{1}{2}$ points: G. 'T. Jackson and ('. L. Ru ty were second and third, with 7 and $6 \frac{1}{2}$ points respectively.

At the conclusion of the events, the Mayoress, Mrs. W. Wharton, gracefully presented the prizes and cups to the successful competitors.

The Head Master, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Mayoress, said how glad they were that so many parents and friends of the School had defied the weather and come to the Sports that afternoon. He offered them a hearty invitation also to attend the Cricket and Football matehes. After thanking the donors of prizes and subscriptions, the officials of the eports, and others who had helped to make the gathering a success, he finally thanked the Mayoress for her great kinduess in coming to give the prizes away. He called upon the boys to show their appreciation of the Mayoress' kindness, and the Sports Champion, D. J. Watson, presented a bouquet to Mrs. Wharton and called for three cheers, which were vigorously given.

The Mayor, in replying on behalf of the Mayoress, said he knew she felt it a great honour and compliment to be invited there that afternoon. School sports were excellent hings, developing, as they did, just the kind of spirit which they should strive to put into their work. He thanked them for the bouquet the boys had presented to his wife, who would remember that afternoon as one of the most pleasant functions she had attended.

We take this opportunity of thanking the following for subscriptions-received too late for acknowledgment on the Sports Programme: F. Haddock, Esq., Mrs. R. J. Howland, W. G. Humphreys, Esq.. J. Nutt, Esq., L. W. Reynolds, Esq., E. Sweetland, Esq., T. Thurlow, Esq., H. J. Watson, Esq.

FIVES COMPE'TITIONS. 1909.

Considerable interest has been taken in the Fives Competitions this year. A record number of entries were received the total number being 46, of which 12 were Juniors. There were several close games, the SemiFinal of the Championship, in which Butler beat Neale, being the most exciting. The champion this year is Butler, who has also won the Open Senior Handicap, while Butler and Wood won the Doubles. Appended are the results:-

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

The Annual Entertainment in aid of the School Games' Fund took place on Friday and Saturday, April 2nd and 3rd. The boys were present at a full dress rehearsal on Thursday night, and their keen enjoyment promised well for success on the following nights; and we were not disappointed. On Friday and Saturday the Schoolroom was well filled with an audience which heartily applauded and evidently enjoyed every item of the programme; this was divided into two parts-a concert and a play.
G. T. Jackson, H. J. Carr and V. Sutton opened the procecdings with a violin trio. They chose a "March," and a most suitable one it proved to be. Mr. Threlfall came next, and gave an agreeable rendering of "The Amateur Yachtsman." which was encored. "The Oak and the Ash"' was swcetly and tuncfully sung by R. V'. Britnell, E. L. Graefe, J. A. Leys and A. F. Stammers. C. G. Pearce was received with loud acclamation and sang "The Veteran's Song" in a stirring fashion. In response to the demand for an encore, he sang the popular favourite "She sells sea shells." Mr. Austin sang " The Yeoman's Wedding " in his usual finished style, and was encored.

Of the remaining items of the musical programme, the most noteworthy was a song from W. H. E. Timms, which succeeded a good performance by E. S. Griffin. It provided just the right amount of humour at the right moment, and the more sedate performance of the violin trio was nceded to soot he the audience into a proper mood to grasp the mystification in the play that followed. Yice Yersa, the main incidents of which are indicated in the foot-note of the appended programme, was as successful a dramatic entertainment as we have yet seen on thase occasions, and reflected great credit on all conrerned. To draw distinction between the different actors, all of whom displayed great histrionic talent, would be invidious. In conclusion, we wish to thank most heartily all those who assisted us in any way, both on and off the stage: Despite heavy expenditure in connection with the play, we were enabled to hand nver $£ 11$ 13s. 11d, to the Games’ Fund.

The following was the programme:-

R.G.S. v. KING ALFRED'S SCHOOL, WANTAGE.

Played at Reading on Tuesday, June 29th. Drawn. Owing to heavy thunder showers, it was impossible to play this match to a finish. Wantage won the toss and scored 78 for 7 wickets. They then declared, but after we had been batting for about half an hour, another shower began and stopped play about 10 minutes before time. The bowling and fielding were very fair, considering the adverse conditions, and Gillett displayed commendable self-restraint in his batting. Scores:-

BOWLING ANALYSIS.

R.G.S. (AVERAGE AGE 121) v. PARISH CHURCH JUNIORS.

Played on the School ground on Saturday, June 19th. Won by 12 runs. 'The Juniors turned up one man short, so it was agreed to play 10 a-side. Gotch won the toss, and we batted first. We started badly, Turner and Goteh being quickly dismissed. Leys ii, however, played a steady game, and with Griffin`s assistance improved our position. After they were separated wickets fell rapidly, and we were all out for 38 . Pierce's bowling proving very effective. Our epponents' first innings was very brief. Gotch and Griffin, backed up by good ficlding, dismissed them for 22 . In our second innings, Griffin was again top scorer, and though no one reached double figures, the whole team helped to knock up the respectable total of 63 . The Juniors were thus left with 80 to get to win. R. Nash made a vigorous attempt to save the game, and hit the bowling all over the field before he was well caught by Horwood. After his dismissal wickets fell rapidly, and they were all cut for 67 . Scores:-

ASPIRATIONS.

We are told by psychological experts that there is no limit to the latent potentialities a young person may possess. Early environment and hereditary influence may count for something, but, if they do count, they are so complex a quantity that no means have yet been found of gauging them.

The boy may become anything.
This is a fact that fond parents remember with gratification when they notice some sign of incipient talent in their offspring. "Ah," pater-familias will say, " You can never tell how they will turn out. Depend upon it, that boy will make a name for himself some day or other."

Then, between the puffs of his post-prandial pipe-it is generally in the after dimer hour of the evening that these parental confidences are made-he will proceed to map out the things that may happen, and the glories that John or Willy may attain to.

But it is the boy himself who is chiefly occupied in building those ethereal châteaux d'Espagne which he will inhabit. With him imagination is the strongest, as it is certainly the earliest developed faculty. The future is all before him, and as yet there are no failures in the past to teach him the limits of its possibilities. Every soldier carries a field-marshal's baton in his knapsack, and with every boy there is the chance that he may achieve greatness. He must be something. What more natural than to give the reins to his imagination, and dream that he will be something great. If ambition be the last, it is also the first infirmity of noble minds. But youthful ambitions are rarely altogether selfish or ignoble. They arise very often from the desire to imitate someone, and are only another manifestation of hero worship. Moreover, all ambitions are associated with the momentous question of deciding upon the choice of a profession.

With some, the desire to follow some particular calling or other shows itself very early. But these precocious aptitudes do not, as a rule, mean much. A boy may make up his mind about what he will be a dozen times or more before he arrives at a permanent decision. Every change of environment or circumstance in his life alters the course of his aspirations. Now it is the reading of "Westward Ho!", or "Treasure Island" that makes him mad to become a sailor: now the summer holidays spent on his uncle's farm that makes him think an agricultural life is the only one worth living; and now it is the gift of a model steam engine that gives him for the moment a mechanical turn of mind, and makes him decide to become an engineer. Almost all of us have had these spasmodic infatuations at some time or other. We have ali passed through the Robinson Crusoe and Red Indian phases, and made up our minds to begin life as cabin boys and have our share of those biood-curdling adventures that always befall cabin boys --in books.

I have often wondered what would have happened if only we had really had the courage of our convictions, and had run away to sea. I suppose that a career of glory might have opened out for some of us if-there are always a good many "ifs "-only we had had the necessary physical stamina and energy. It generally happens. however, that the boy with the most blood-thirsty dreams is physically the least likely person to carry them out. I wonder what becomes of all his dreams and phantasies? Perhaps he lives to become a lesser kind of Kipling, and amasses great wealth by writing those soul-stirring narratives of hair-breadth escapes that appeal so readily to the youthful mind. I think it must be so from what I know of authors in general. The outer and the inner man are opposites, and you will find, for instance, that the writers of sentimental love storics, such as apnoal to young ladies, are bluff, beery-looking individuals, with apparently not a spark of romance in their composition. But, of course, it may be that the fire-eating youth grows up to adorn some peaceful calling. I think this is generally the case. How many mild, easy-going country parsons are there who once had wild dreams of death or glory on the high seas, and the free and vicious life of the bold buccaneer! Alas! the years have crept on and damped their youthful ardour, and the iron hand of a cold conventionality and reality forbids them to let their imaginations run riot. Yet were not those dreams of war and glory altogether vain. They make, perhaps, the one touch of romance that many a humdrum, prosaic life is ever to know, and give a wider sympathy with the world of men than the erstwhile dreamers realise.
